Headline:
Snow showers in east Monday, southwest largely fine and dry.

Today:
Sunny intervals and scattered snow showers, these most frequent in the east with just the odd flurry towards Dumfries and longer spells of sunshine to the west. Another cold day with brisk easterly winds. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Tonight:
Cold. Mainly dry with clear periods in west, but some snow showers in east and likely becoming heavier and more prolonged across Lothians and towards Falkirk, with low level accumulations. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Tuesday:
Further snow showers in east, some heavy and prolonged over Lothians and into Central Belt, with further accumulations. Mainly dry with sunny spells in west. Cold but easterly winds easing. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Staying cold. Bright or sunny spells, but scattered snow showers in east, though only a few showers Thursday. Strengthening southeast winds on Friday will bring snow to west in afternoon.
